Unitus Community Credit Union Breaks Ground in Vancouver

PORTLAND, Ore. (Jan. 28, 2008) – Unitus Community Credit Union recently hosted a groundbreaking ceremony in SE Vancouver in anticipation of their eighth branch.

On January 14, Unitus staff and management, members of the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce, along with staff from R&H Construction and Group Mackenzie gathered at the site located at SE 192nd Avenue and Mill Plain to officially welcome the eighth location of a Unitus branch.

“We are pleased to be breaking ground in such an active and supportive community and look forward to serving our members, their friends, family, and neighbors that live in Clark County,” said Patricia Smith, President and CEO of Unitus Community Credit Union.

The Mill Plain Crossing branch of Unitus will be a full service branch, offering a complete line of deposit and loan products and services, as well as financial planning services.

The new branch will employ eight people. Unitus members can look forward to the Mill Plain Crossing branch opening in July of 2008.
